

Brit Bennett

Bennett is based in LA, most well known for her best selling novel - The Vanishing Half. This book focuses on the differing experiences of two Black twins, where one passes as white...

Bernardine Evaristo

An Anglo-Nigerian author, who was the first Black woman to win the Booker Prize. Evaristo's Girl, Woman, Other tells us the story of twelve different women, discussing race, sexuality and politics. Her other works include Blonde Roots and Soul Tourists.

Malorie Blackman

Blackman's most notable work lies in the Noughts and Crosses series, which discusses racism and discrimination in an alternative society. This series has also been produced into a television series.