

Plymouth High School for Girls

"For life, not school, we learn"

17th February 2022

Dear Parents and Carers,

I wrote to you earlier today saying that we planned to keep school open tomorrow. However, we have recently received further guidance which has resulted in us changing that decision.

The school will be closed tomorrow, 18th February, due to adverse weather conditions.

Teachers will be supporting students remotely in accordance with the normal school timetable and will be taking registers. Students should log onto their class Teams channel at the normal lesson time.

We did not take the decision to close the school lightly, but following all the guidance that has been coming in over the last few hours, we felt that the most sensible decision was to close for Friday 18th February 2022.

I wish you and your family a safe and happy holiday. School restarts on Monday 28th February.

Very best wishes,

Simon Underdown.
Headteacher.
